"Getting only a half hour for lunch totally blows!"

MOTIVATIONS

As a minimum-wage retail employee, Peter only gets a half hour break each day at work. This is barely enough time to eat, let alone go out and have a smoke and relax before jumping in the grind again. He really just wants a way to maximize the benefits of his paltry break time.

GOALS

- Getting lunch with time to eat and relax afterwards.
- Cheap and affordable.
- Nearby.

FRUSTRATIONS

- Getting lunch but having no time to eat.
- Overly expensive meals on a minimum wage budget.
- Same boring food everyday.

BIO

Peter is a full-time student at the University of Washington, and a part-time barista at cafe in downtown Seattle, WA. When he's not studying or working, he spends a lot of time out with friends and often finds himself low on funds.
